

JOB DESCRIPTION
QA/QC Inspector
H&W Electrical | Greenville, SC

Department:	Quality Assurance / Quality Control	Reports To:	Project Manager / Director of Operations
FLSA Status:	Exempt / Salaried	Openings:	1
Travel Required:	Possible — project site visits required across active H&W project locations

Position Summary

H&W Electrical is seeking a detail-oriented QA/QC Inspector to ensure that all electrical installations meet project specifications, NEC code requirements, and H&W quality standards. This role serves as a critical checkpoint across active projects and works closely with project managers, superintendents, and field crews to identify and resolve quality issues before they impact project delivery.

Primary Responsibilities

- Inspect electrical installations for compliance with project drawings, specifications, and NEC requirements
- Develop, implement, and maintain project-specific quality control plans
- Conduct pre-installation, in-process, and final inspections on all assigned projects
- Document inspection findings and maintain accurate QA/QC records
- Interface with third-party inspectors, owner representatives, and AHJs
- Identify non-conformances and issue corrective action requests
- Train field personnel on quality standards and inspection requirements

Required Qualifications

- Minimum 5 years of electrical construction experience; QC inspector experience preferred
- Working knowledge of NEC, NFPA 70E, and applicable electrical codes
- Journeyman Electrician license preferred
- Experience with industrial electrical QC programs and documentation
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office; experience with construction management software a plus

About H&W Electrical

H&W Electrical is a family-owned design-build electrical contractor headquartered in Greenville, SC. We are committed to hiring employees who not only want to work, but who want to work for H&W. Every employee receives a tailored career path, access to H&W University for ongoing training and skill development, and the tools they need to succeed. H&W promotes from within — we are invested in the long-term growth of every member of our team.